

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and system for automatically feeding animals uses 5 identifiers on the animals and controls access to one or more food sources to control the amount consumed by each animal. The system is controlled by a programmable processor and can provide or prevent access and cut off access once provided based on the particular animal seeking food.